RECOMMEND TAX MEASURE

Reports Morris 25 Per Cent
Reduction for Indefinite Postponement

By Associated Press
Madison—The state senate Wednesday passed the initiative and referendum measure by a vote of 22 to 10. This is the second time the bill has been before the legislature for pass

The bill would reserve to the people the right to propose laws and to enact or reject the same at the polls independent of the legislature. It also would give power to approve or reject at the polls any law or part thereof enacted by the legislature.

Senator Gettelman attempted to delay action by the senate on the bill by moving to lay consideration over until next week to refer it to the committee on state and local government. Both proposals were lost.

The rollcall on initiative and referendum:

For the bill—Barber, Barker, Bilgrien, Carroll, Cashman, Casperson, Chase, Englund, Garver, Heck, Hunt, Johnson, Kemp, Koppel, Padway, Polakowski, Quick, Sauthoff, Schumann, Severson, Tausdale, Thrus—22.
Against—Boldt, Daggett, Gettelman, Hull, Lange, Mieligan, Morris, Roethe, Smith White—10.

Not voting—Staudenmayer

The administration income tax bill which proposes to raise approximately $12,000,000 in state revenue at the same time eliminating the personal property offset, was reported in the senate Tuesday by the committee on taxation with a recommendation for passage.

At the same time the committee reported for indefinite postponement the Morris bill which contemplated the duction of 25 per cent on all classes of taxable income. The committee vote in each case was 3 to 2. Senators O. H. Johnson, chairman, John Englund and John B. Chase voting in the affirmative, and Senators O. H. Harris and Harry B. Daggett in the negative.

Decision on the recommendation was reported after a lengthy committee hearing on the Morris bill. Thirteen persons appeared in behalf of the bill and one, Attorney General Herman L. Eken, opposed it. Those appearing for the bill were Senators Morris, Assemblyman George W. Blanchard, Edgerton, Leon B. Lamson, W. L. Pieplow, L. G. Shepherd, A. C. Held, H. W. Story, R. S. Hoar, James T. Drought, C. T. Printy and Theodore Plough, all of Milwaukee; F. H. Clauson, Oregon and W. E. Spring, Madison.

Mr. Kellogg declined to discuss the proposed Washington arms conference. He said, however, that he had not brought with him any plan for the limitation of armaments. Referring to reports that he was in poor health he said:

"I never felt better in my life."

KEEP CONSERVATION OUT OF POLITICS, IS SLOGAN

Green Bay—The removal of the conservation commission from politics was urged by O. W. Smith, editor of a sportsman's magazine, in an address before the Teak Walton league here Tuesday night.

"We're tired of political shilly-shallying, and tired of these eternal commissions," Mr. Smith said, as he flayed Governor Blaine's request for another commission to "study" forestry.

"Unless our eternal commissions stop measuring our streams by water power, our forests by dollar power, we're going to lose outdoor Wisconsin," the editor declared. "It's time to call a halt and we're calling it now."

The state derives about $200,000 more in fishing and hunting fees than it spends for conservation, Mr. Smith charged. This surplus has been going into the road fund, he said.

OBJECT TO STEEL REINFORCEMENT IN CONCRETE PAVING

City Engineers Discuss Best Methods of Permanently Improving Streets

Types of pavement occupied a prominent place on the program of the convention of Wisconsin Engineering society attended by R. M. Connelly, city engineer, at Madison last three days of last week.

While the society did not commit itself to any special type of pavement, speakers declared in favor of the concrete pavement without the use of steel reinforcement. It was considered a waste to put steel in concrete unless it amounts to at least 7 pounds per square yard of concrete. Many pavements do not contain more than 2 pounds, it was reported, and in this case the steel cannot prevent the concrete from cracking.

The policy of the state highway commission has been to use no steel whatever in concrete highways.

DRYS TOO SLOWLY

The unsatisfactory process of drying off of concrete after pouring was commented on. Too frequently the surface is left with thousands of tiny holes. If a method can be found to pour concrete and later expel the water, much will have been accomplished, it was said. The strengthening of concrete pavements by the compact application of stone to produce a hardwearing surface was commended.

Among the speakers were L. S. Smith, who was Appleton's planning engineer, A. R. Hirst, chief engineer of the American Fibrolithic company, W. R. Skidmore of Chicago, who spoke on asphalt pavements and C. M. Baker, state sanitary engineer.

Considerable interest was aroused by the address of the assistant city engineer of Sheboygan on the difference between force account and concrete work. He told of the paving projects completed by the city of Sheboygan under the direction of the engineering department. By doing the work itself, the city obtained a high quality of pavement and netted a saving with which it purchased $60,000 worth of equipment and built a two-story street department building and modernized it, it was stated.

Being Secretary To The President No Soft Job

BY HARRY B. HUNT

Washington—A pair of the softest, silkiest kind of velvet gloves are an essential part of a presidential private secretary's wardrobe, but it is equally essential that there shall be a pair of iron hands inside them.

Everett Sanders of Indiana, who will succeed C. Bascom Slemm as private secretary to President Coolidge on March 4, is reputed to have the necessary equipment, sartorially and anatomically.

He mustn't offend anybody but frequently he must do and say things that are calculated to give offense.

He must know everybody and all about everybody. He mustn't let anybody "get to" the president who oughtn't to "get to" him, but he mustn't make the mistake of preventing anybody from "getting to" him who ought to do so.

He must be as smooth as silk to the people he lets in and he must make those whom he keeps out like it.

He must be par excellence a politician—a fixer.

He must be supremely loyal.

He has at least a difficult, delicate and fully as important a job as any cabinet member, but he must manage to keep himself inconspicuous—to efface himself.

Everett Sanders ought to fill the bill.

He has been, for four terms, to all appearances just an ordinary "run of mine" congressman, from Terre Haute, Ind., but when you come to ask questions about him among his fellow lawmakers, you discover that they all like him and that, without any fuss about it, he has a lot of influence.

Sanders was the son of a Hoosier clergyman. He is 43 years old.

He has served in the 55th, 57th and 58th Congresses, but did not seek reelection to the 59th, although it was conceded he would have had a walk-away.

He was among those mentioned as a vice presidential possibility at the Cleveland Republican convention.

The administration wanted Slemm on account of his political skill and experience, especially in the south for he is one of that rare species, a southern Republican.

Having done his work and done it well, it has been known for some time that he wanted to get out of office.

Besides, his relations with Senator William M. Butler, Republican national committee chairman, have not been the most cordial.

STEINBERG GOLF COURSE CHAIRMAN

Standing Committees Are Appointed by Butte des Morts Club Directors

Daniel P. Steinberg was elected chairman of the greens committee of Butte des Morts Golf club at a dinner of the board of directors at Hotel Northern Monday evening.

The new officers, with Seymour Gmelner as president, met for the first time to appoint standing committees for the year.

Mr. Steinberg's position is an important one, as he has the responsibility for maintaining the 18 hole golf course on Brickyard rd in proper playing shape all through the season. Other members of his committee are Mowry Smith, Menasha, and H. A. DeBauer, Appleton.

There other committees also were appointed for the year. They are:

Finance—John L. Jacquot, chairman, Joseph J. Plank and Fred Ivoelz, Appleton; J. Gillingham, Neenah; H. E. Landgraf, Menasha.

Tournament rules and handicaps—Dr. W. E. O'Keefe, chairman and H. H. Pelkey Appleton, and D. C. Shepard, Neenah.

House—C. C. Baker, chairman, Roy Marston and Robert A. Schmidt, all of Appleton.

Each committee will meet soon to plan its work for the year and the board of directors also will begin its plans for administration of the club.

This will be the Butte des Morts Golf club's first complete season, as the course was not opened for use until last fall. The course has not been without users, even this winter. A number of golfers were playing a few holes a week or ten days ago when the ground was bare and the weather fairly mild.

Congress Considers $150,000,000 Federal Building Program

Appleton postoffice may participate in the federal public building program, if a building bill is passed in congress. The bill has already passed the lower house and is now up for consideration in the senate.

The bill calls for a building program of $150,000,000 covering a period of six years and allowing an expenditure of only $25,000,000 a year. If the bill is successful, the secretary of treasury will be empowered to administer the expenditures.

Appleton was placed on the preferred list by congress two years ago. Just how soon the local postoffice would obtain its appropriation to build an addition and thus relieve the congestion Appleton has an advantage in the fact that the utility building projects are favored in preference to the monumental building projects, according to Postmaster Zuehlke.

Sewers Here Do Not Offer Big Problem

In a consultation with C. M. Baker, state sanitary engineer, at Madison last week, R. M. Connelly, Appleton city engineer, was informed that the sewerage system of Appleton is not nearly as big a problem as that of other Wisconsin cities.

Mr. Baker advised, however, that where sewer systems are developed in new sections of the city, such as in the Fourth ward near the Cherry-st bridge and in the undeveloped section of the Sixth ward, that sanitary sewers and storm sewers, be kept separate. By so doing, the city will save itself a good deal of money, Mr. Baker declared.

Appleton is fortunate, he said, in having a 9-foot trunk sewer to take care of the north and east portions of the city.

will be present at the Deans of Women group meeting Feb. 26, 27 and 28 at the Hotel Gibson. They will return from the meetings at the end of the week.

School ideals and their relation to the nation will be the general subject for discussion, while the deans will consider the subjects of the dean's objective and psychiatry in its relation to the work of the dean.

Physician Surprised

"Hearing of some good results from the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I decided to try it on a chronic case of indigestion and gastritis I was interested in. After the first dose the patient was relieved of gas trouble and was soon able to eat radishes and many things he had not eaten in years." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists. adv.

Federal Income Tax

Various penalties are imposed by the revenue act of 1924 for failure to file a return and pay the tax on time, and for making a fraudulent return. Distinction is made between failure and "willful failure" to file a return. For each failure to file the return on time, the penalty is 25 per cent of the amount of the tax, unless a return is later filed and it is satisfactorily shown to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that such failure was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. If a taxpayer exercised ordinary business care and prudence, and nevertheless was unable to file a return within the prescribed time, the delay is due to a "reasonable cause."

For willful failure to make a return the penalty is not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, and in addition 25 per cent of the amount of the tax. For willfully making a false or fraudulent return, the penalty is not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, and in addition 50 per cent of the amount of the tax, in case of a deficiency.

If there is a deficiency there is added to the tax interest on the amount of such deficiency at the rate of 6 per cent a year from the date prescribed for the payment of the tax to the date the deficiency is assessed. In addition, there is added 5 per cent of the amount of the deficiency if due to negligence, but without intent to defraud. If due to fraud, the amount added in addition is 50 per cent of the deficiency.

LEGISLATOR WANTS AUTOMOBILES TAXED FOR USING HIGHWAYS

Privilege Tax Is Latest Suggestion for Making Car Owners Pay

Madison — Abolition of personal property offset in administration tax bill pending in the Wisconsin legislature, has led to the introduction of several bills to create a privilege tax on motor vehicles.

One such bill, introduced by Senator Walter Polakowski of Milwaukee, provides that all vehicles registered after Dec. 31, 1925 must pay a privilege highway tax at the average rate on the property in the taxing community, arrived at by adding the totals of all county, municipal and school tax levied and dividing the net total by the assessed valuation. The rate, the bill provides, must be certified by the town or city clerk to the county clerk, not later than Dec. 1 of each year, and shall apply to all vehicles registered for the year succeeding the next Dec. 31.

The rate of tax then is applied on a valuation computed from the factory retail price for the latest corresponding model of the same make as stated in a list of prices prepared by the secretary of state. The valuation to be as follows:

85 per cent on cars used the first year.
75 per cent of price, second year.
65 per cent of price, third year.
40 per cent of price, fourth year.
25 per cent of price, fifth year.
10 per cent of price for subsequent years of use.

The privilege tax mentioned would be in lieu of the personal property tax on such vehicles, the bill further provides. A reduction is made on all cars registered after July 1 in any year. On cars registered between July 1 and Aug. 31 the reduction is placed at 25 per cent and for registration between Aug. 31 and the close of the year, it is placed at 60 per cent.

Taxes raised by the privilege tax would be used for the construction and maintenance of highways and streets in the towns, villages and cities where collected in such manner as their respective boards or councils would by resolution determine, according to the provisions of the bill.

The Polakowski bill corresponds to a similar bill introduced in the assembly by Edward F. Hilker, Racine.

In the fifth and sixth century spices were demanded as ransom instead of gold.

Fellowship Of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading prepared for Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

ASH WEDNESDAY

Read Lk. 4:1-13. Text: 4:1, 2. And Jesus was in the wilderness forty days being tempted.

MEDITATION—Christ was tempted in the loneliness of the wilderness. It is in the secret places of our own souls that we meet and must master our temptations. The contest with sin wages in our inner life. There each one must conquer his own temptations, and in the strength that comes from God we can stand firm and experience the joys of victory as did our Lord.

A PRAYER FOR THE LENTEN SEASON — Almighty God, Father of all, who hast set us in the fellowship of Thy Son Jesus Christ, be near to us in this time of meditation and communion. May our hearts be open to every holy affection, and ready to receive and cherish every sacred memory and serious impression. Give us to know the power of that life and death, which this season commemorates. Let a portion of the spirit which led our Saviour to the Cross, descend upon us and fill our hearts with the love of God and man. Here and now, may every selfish passion and desire be stilled and may the peace of God which passeth all understanding keep our thoughts in Christ Jesus, our Lord, Amen.

DITTMORE RESIGNS AS "Y" SECRETARY

H. A. Dittmore, boys' work secretary of Appleton Y. M. C. A., has resigned his position with the local association to accept a position as manager of one of the leading hotels of San Francisco, Calif. Mr. Dittmore's resignation will take effect on March 15 and he will leave for the coast immediately after.

Mr. Dittmore came to the local association as office secretary in September, 1923, from Milwaukee where he had held several important positions in the Y. M. C. A. He became boys' work secretary in August 1924, when Joseph E. Dennison resigned the position to go into boys work at Two Rivers. Before going to the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. Mr. Dittmore made an excellent reputation for his work in the San Francisco associations, where he was in charge of the work in Chinatown.

REVENUE BUREAU SENDS EXPERT TO HELP TAXPAYERS

Federal Agent Will Assist Appleton People Fill Out Tax Blanks

The local office of the federal revenue service in the city hall has been filled temporarily by H. L. Goodrich of the Milwaukee office. The deputy collector is engaged in field work and will be here only until after the close of the time allowed for the filing of federal income tax returns.

Mr. Goodrich started work here on Tuesday morning, and will be in his office from 8:30 to 5 o'clock every day, with one hour off at noon. His office will be open on Saturday afternoons as well. The last day for filing reports is Mar. 15, but owing to the fact that this day falls on a Sunday, a day of grace has been added. The federal representative will be in his office that day until midnight so as to enable taxpayers to escape the penalty for a delayed return. Mr. Goodrich offers to give assistance to anyone in filing out his return. It is expected that later another representative may be sent to aid corporations in making their returns.

R. C. Fairbank who was in charge of the local office last year has resigned to resume the practice of law. Miss Ethel Hilburg, who took care of the work here before Mr. Fairbank, now is acting chief of the Madison division of the internal revenue office.

Spring Enters

Boldly, deftly, sketching in a line here, subtly suggesting a curve there, Fashion has presented us with an enchanting picture of her favored styles for Spring. We find them hauntingly like, yet surprisingly unlike the mid-season modes. They're charming, indeed, but it is in their newness, their uniqueness, that their great appeal lies.

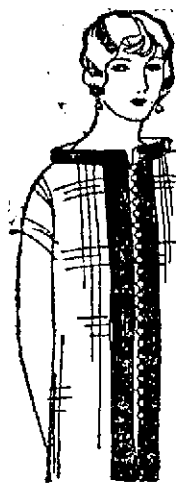

Flares

There are front flares of clever godets peeping out just above the hem of a satin frock; side flares too, offering piquant contrast to the straightness of a kasha dress; flared flounces; flared tiers; circular flares beginning at the waistline—oh, there's no end to their enchanting variety!

A smart spring coat of tailored tweed, has conspicuous pocket flaps placed over the hips, emphasizing the flared side sections in contrast to the fitted waistline, $45.

GYPSY RED, the season's smartest color is shown in a girlish Coat of Veloria, flared skirt bottom, bordered with baby fox fur. $69.75.

Pleats

In Fashion's enticing sketch of pleats, we find novel inverted pleats placed only in front, adding smart fullness to sport frocks of kasha and novelty crepe; we find pleats introduced into side panels, which are caught below the hip with embroidered motifs, to hold the straight silhouettes.

A middy frock of Chinese red Flat Crepe exhibits its fondness for pleats by acquiring a single deep inverted one in the center of the front and back. $25.00.

A TITIAN FROCK with fine line tucks, inserted lace collar, a bottom tab border of self material, a typical model of Spring's gayest style. $25.00.

Spring 1925 Silhouette

STRAIGHT slim lines contrasted with unexpected flares at the hem line, with all the fullness gathered to the front leaving a back that is flat and straight—that is the fashionable silhouette for spring.

SKIRTS are short, very short and often uneven in length, being longer in front to accentuate the front fullness.

SLEEVES when long are usually tight to the elbow and then varied by flares or peasant puffs with tight cuffs. If short, they're very, very short.

Embroideries

Embroideries, vividly Chinese, richly tinselled, or brilliantly gay, enhance the smartness of many a modish satin crepe frock for afternoon, a camel's-hair twill frock for sports or an elaborate ensemble. Spring coats, too, are often colorfully embroidered.

Tunics Again

The new tunics are shorter and often jauntily flared in accordance with Fashion's fondness for the flare. They're found on many smart frocks. Indeed, so voguish are they that certain of the new coats have affected a tunic style.

Six Things a tooth paste should do

Fight acids with magnesia.
Combat germ attacks with the right-antiseptics.
Protect the gums with iodine.
Cleanse with a fruit-oil cleanser.
Beautify with polishers.
Sweeten the breath with deodorants.
Phillips' Dental Magnesia does all.

The One Thing

Most important to teeth is magnesia

Magnesia neutralizes acid. All the acids which form on teeth perish at its touch.

Fermenting food forms acid, around and between the teeth. Acid is the cause of decay. Nothing else is so important as to fight that acid as it forms.

Phillips' Dental Magnesia does that. It is made by the makers of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, which dentists have long advised. Here we offer a concentrated form, designed to penetrate between the teeth and stay. Have it there, every day and night, to fight the great foe of teeth.

Protect your teeth with it tonight.

Do these things, too

Phillips' Dental Magnesia does more than that. It has adopted the "Formula of 1924"—the greatest tooth paste formula science has devised. Four great organizations combined to create it.

It is designed to meet all modern requirements in the most efficient ways.

Four antiseptics are embodied, to combat the germs which breed by millions in the mouth.

Iodine is there, to protect the gums. A fruit-oil cleanser cleans the teeth in an ideal way. Two polishers are included, both safe and efficient, to whiten and beautify teeth. And deodorants for the breath.

So now you apply, in Phillips' Dental Magnesia, 16 important ingredients. You do to the utmost, with one application, all a dozen applications can do.

This the last word

Phillips' Dental Magnesia, as made today, embodies the best modern science knows to beautify teeth and protect them. It is all-in-one.

Its pleasant and complete effects will give you a new conception of what a tooth paste should accomplish.

Go get it now, at your drug store. Don't let another day or night go by without this supreme protection. Combat at once the attacks of acids and germs on your teeth.

Do everything required with one application. Watch the quick and unique results. You will never again use a tooth paste to bring but one effect.

Based on Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—the super-magnesia, standard for 50 years with dentists and physicians. At all drug stores.

THE THIRD PARTY

The C. P. P. A. has decided to continue the battle against monopoly and the money power. Neither Senator La Follette nor Robert, Jr., his valet de chambre, has in recent weeks shown a marked appetite for the preservation of the infant third party. The time did not seem—undoubtedly is not—propitious for this excursion into the realms of pure democracy, but there had to be a showdown. Those who had been roped into the movement proved to be more ardent in the cause than the lariat thrower. Deserted by labor and the Socialists, they still insisted on standing alone. They are the type of men who love to confer, pass resolutions, make speeches and get their names into public print.

Mr. La Follette did not attend, but reluctantly sent his son. Robert's counsels are understood to have been soothingly discouraging, but they did not prevail. The headlines took the bit in their mouths and voted to acknowledge the offspring and give it legitimate parentage. The next step is the christening, as soon as a name can be agreed upon. Doubtless this privilege will be the right of the senator from Wisconsin. The thing, therefore, is done. We are to have a third party which one day will overthrow both the old parties, take charge of the government, purge the country of all its evils and most of its blessings. That much being determined we shall know how to conduct ourselves and make our wills.

We suspect, however, that secretly Senator La Follette is not as enthusiastic as his able lieutenants who have served the cause of progress at Chicago. It is not going to be a question with Mr. La Follette whether he can extend his influence throughout the United States, but whether he can preserve it at home. Deprived of all connection with the Republican party, of the chairmanship of committees in the senate to which he had risen, and barred from the use of the party label in the state of Wisconsin, there is danger of unhealthy reaction. The politicians who are riding with La Follette must feel at least two good wheels beneath the cart and a horse to pull it. If it comes to walking they will soon tire. They cannot long eat stones for bread.

It would have been better strategy to await "the favorable opportunity" for launching the third party, even if it never came. It is something "around the corner" about to be realized for ushering in the new day, but which is constantly frustrated by the money power, that has made Mr. La Follette popular and heartened his followers to struggle on. That near-hope and this beatific picture, face to face with hard reality, now recedes into the background and the promised land assumes more the aspect of a dry and barren desert. After all, politics is politics, and that is about all there is to it. High-minded men get into office from time to time and such as a rule reach the presidency. Outside of that it is a cold-blooded game and the devil take the hindmost. In the meantime, the social regeneration is held up, the millennium fades into the distance. The third party loomed a great deal larger as it might be than "as is."

CONGRESS INCREASES ITS PAY

It may be that the services of the average congressman at Washington are worth $10,000 a year, but an examination of the records of many of them would probably show that they could not earn that much at home and never did. On the whole, they are no better law makers than they are artisans or professional or business men in private life. We should say that at $10,000 a year about 60 or 70 per cent of them were overpaid, so far as the value of their actual work is concerned.

On the other hand, it may be argued with considerable force that $10,000 a year is not too large a sum for a nation like the United States to pay its legislators. The dignity, importance, and responsibility of the office is undoubtedly worth that sum to the nation, with this proviso—that the men who fill the office measure up to its requirements. Since many of them do not, their services are expensive at any price.

The trouble in fixing an equitable salary for congress is that the duties of the office and the men who fill it are widely separated. By one measure a large salary is recommended, and by another a small salary. However this may be, congress has voted to increase the salary of its members from $7500 to $10,000 a year. It has done this without making any provision for additional revenue with which to meet the increased expenditure of more than $1,300,000 annually.

When congress passed the bill increasing the pay of postal clerks without making provision for revenue to meet it the president vetoed the act. He is confronted with a similar situation with respect to congress' boost of its own pay. He is furthermore confronted with his paramount policy of economy. It will be interesting to see what he does in the situation. The advance in the pay of congress was slipped through without debate or roll call in either house. There was no explanation. Not even the high cost of living was urged as a justification.

We do not think this move has increased the popularity of the congress with the people, but perhaps that is of no consequence. The reputation of congress is about as low as it has ever been, and there is little that could make it worse. If the bill becomes a law there is one contingency that might bring it within the approval of the people, and that is that it results in sending to Washington men of better ability and worthiness to serve their constituents and the country.

WHO CARES HOW BIG THEY GET?

Los Angeles says it will be the third city in the United States in 1940. San Francisco boosters say San Francisco will be the biggest city in the world by 1950 or 1960.

And both of them seem to think it is important.

Why should anybody care? By 1940 perhaps there will be no cities, or none that anybody can see where they begin or end.

Cities used to have to be within walking distance of their market centers.

Then they grew to electric car, and then to automobile size.

Already they are getting too crowded to have a "business center." They will have to have several.

Then it will make no difference how many of these there are, or how far apart.

Finally, in the age these prophets are talking about, a city will be compact enough if its inhabitants are within radio hearing and within airplane distance of each other.

A city a thousand miles across, with great farms and open spaces within its limits, will be as feasible as any other. And that will not be a city.

NO MORE DIPHTHERIA.

All of the nurses in Durand hospital of the John McCormick Institute for Infectious Diseases in Chicago have been immunized against diphtheria. Every nurse has been tested for susceptibility to the disease; every prospective nurse is so tested and immunized if found susceptible to diphtheria. The Schick test consists of injecting into, not through nor under the skin one-fiftieth of the minimum lethal dose of diphtheria toxin for a 250 gram (about 1/2 pound) guinea pig. This minute dose is first diluted with several drops of normal salt solution. If the individual is immune to diphtheria no reaction is observed, if the individual is not immune and therefore presumably susceptible to the disease, a severe reaction is observed. The reaction depends on the amount of antitoxin which is present in the individual's blood, and every one of us who is not susceptible to diphtheria has more or less antitoxin in his blood. How come? Old Doctor Nature manufactures it for us. If he didn't, most of us would succumb to diphtheria. When one has diphtheria, the blood begins the intensive production of antitoxin as soon as the first waves of toxin are thrown into the blood stream from the focus of infection. If the toxin, is not produced by the diphtheria germs in too great quantities, the blood may keep up the demand, antidoting every unit of toxin the germs throw out with a unit of antitoxin, and the patient makes a natural recovery. But if the germs get the jump on the blood, so to speak, diphtheria toxin (toxin means poison) faster than the blood can produce the necessary neutralizing antitoxin, then the patient is doomed unless a supply of antitoxin can be found ready made for him. Now if that isn't perfectly clear and the plainest horse sense—I beg your pardon, please go round to my other ear. Oh, yes, to be sure, where do we get the antitoxin when some must be borrowed? Well, it is really ought to be paid for, but more the absurdity of most of the superstitions of uneducated folk about the effects of antitoxin and the revolting cruelty that too often grows out of such errors. I retain no more harrowing impressions from a rather checkered career in private and hospital practice than the memory of a wistful little child being poisoned to death by inches because her misinformed, headstrong father refused to permit the use of the antitoxin. So, to see that this danger had been averted, let us see what other child who had received antitoxin was "not bright."

But let us rejoice the ladies, as they say after dinner, in the best books on etiquette. By means of the Schick test and toxin antitoxin immunization the diphtheria rate among nurses at Durand hospital has been reduced from 13 to 0.35 per cent. In that hospital, as I think I have told here, the very best modern principles of asepsis are used. This stamping out of the diphtheria menace is therefore a signal triumph for the scientific purpose and common sense of antidoting diphtheria with antitoxin.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Six Months of Uneasy Guessing.

For six months our whole family has suffered from some kind of skin trouble similar to the itch (F. W. J.).
Answer.—That is long enough. Wouldn't it be better now to admit that your self diagnosis has not been successful, and to consult a physician. Don't retort that you did consult a physician but that his treatment was no good, for there is nothing I can rejoin to that. But in any case, there is no need for a whole family or an individual having scabies six months or six days. Perhaps that is the trouble—it is something similar, in your own amateur opinion. The sensible course, then, is to have a good physician examine you, see that member of the household and determine what really is the matter.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

Wednesday, Feb. 28, 1900.

Over 300 members attended the eighth annual banquet of the Young Men's Sunday Evening club in the parlors of the First Congregational church last night. It was the first yearly gathering at which Dr. John Fawcett was not present although he sent his greetings by letter. The principal address was delivered by the Rev. Joseph Chandler. Other speakers were Dr. H. W. Abraham, W. H. Holcomb, Peter R. Thorn and the Rev. F. T. Rose. A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burmeister.

John Hecker suffered a fracture of the wrist yesterday when he was thrown from a wagon as the horses started up suddenly.

Dr. William A. Quayle of Indianapolis, lectured at the Methodist church that evening on Jean Val Jean.

Joseph Hammel sold out his business at Medford and was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hammel before leaving for Milwaukee.

The Wicket Co. woodworking plant at Neenah had a fire early this morning which caused damage amounting to $2,500.

Mrs. Theodore Berg received word of the death of her son John, 26 at Minneapolis, where he was in the tailoring business.

Ruben Peotter, a graduate of the Third ward high school was one of the highest in standings of the students at the University of Chicago.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Wednesday, Feb. 24, 1915.

Kaiser Wilhelm personally witnessed the attack at Lyck during which Gen. Von Hindenburg's army wiped the Russians out of Poland. The Germans suffered heavy losses but were successful in their attack.

Plans for a jitney bus service between Menasha and Appleton was being considered. The Menasha announcement said that a large bus would be placed in service during the coming summer.

Mrs. Herman Brockhaus suffered a broken leg when she fell down the cellar steps at her home this morning.

A snowfall of four inches yesterday was the heaviest of the year.

Judge John Goodland decided to enter the race for reelection as circuit judge. Attorney F. J. Rooney announced that he would not withdraw at this time.

Edward Alesch of Grand Chute submitted to an operation at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hockett were expected to return that evening from an extended trip through Texas and other parts of the south.

THINGS WE NEVER HEAR

A boy crying to have his neck washed.
A wife coaxing her husband to have his mother come and make her home with them.

A bootlegger admitting that the stiff he sells is deadly.

A government clerk asking for something to do.

A taxi driver begging a pedestrian's pardon.

A broker acknowledging that there is any money in his business.

An employee refusing a raise in salary.

A losing team without alibis.

Well, today is Ash Wednesday and the beginning of Lent. Long Harry has renounced cigars for the season, much to the pleasure of the rest of the spongers. The two go well together, for with less cigars left, there will be less ashes scattered on our lounging desks.

One good thing about lent is that there are fewer marriages during that time, and with fewer marriages there will be fewer divorces.

Some girls deny themselves petting pleasures during lent. Others celebrate a perpetual lent.

Al Cissa, the Menasha baseball player, would find it had to observe lent very rigidly for he never made a sacrifice.

As an excellent mode of penance we recommend reading the Congressional Record for the next seven weeks.

Say Rollo, Have you noticed? Dot Dash Dave must be using a dot dash razor. In clearing the brush this morning he left a strip under his nose untouched. Maybe he caught a cold.

Mawruss dropped in at the auto show this week while his wife picked out his new car.

Jack the make-up man won a ten dollar prize at the auto show. The usual question asked as soon as everybody heard the news, "Is he going to buy a car with it?"

Since the legislature has gone crazy making laws for automobilists, why don't they just for a chance pass a law compelling pedestrians to use a horn and bumpers?

The price of admission at the auto show was the same as last year 25 cents to get in and $500 to $9,000 to get out.

I've saw another newspaper person at the auto show. He wasn't interested in a new car. He just wanted to see what his fenders used to look like.

There was a great commotion on the Avenue yesterday when a rumor got started that some automobilist was displaying a 1925 Wisconsin license plate. It was only an idle rumor, however, and hadn't the least bit of truth in it. After which every body was happy again.

End In Sight In Mileage Book Fight

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—The long drawn out fight between the commercial travelers of the United States and the railroads, known as the interchangeable mileage ticket case, is about to be closed. The interstate commerce commission has concluded its hearings, briefs have been filed and the oral arguments have been made, and within four or five weeks it is expected that the commission's decision will be handed down.

Then, unless the decision is adverse to the railroads and appeal is taken to the courts, as was done when the commission decided against the carriers about two years ago, the controversy will be at an end. Should the railroads secure another injunction in the lower courts and the case be carried to the supreme court of the United States, the fight may drag on interminably, for it is probable that congress will be asked again to take action in the matter.

The question involved is whether the railroads shall be required to sell interchangeable mileage or scrip coupons at a rate less than the one way full fare rate, the reduction asked being 20 per cent or a $80 book for $72.

APPLIES TO ANYBODY

The reduction would not, of course, apply to commercial travelers alone, for anyone who desires to do so and who has the price can purchase the mileage books when they are on sale. However, the traveling men are the ones who will be most benefited by the reduction and it is they who have made the fight for it through a national organization known as the National Council of Traveling Salesmen's associations.

For almost 50 years the railroads of the country sold mileage books at reduced rates. They did this of their own volition, and not because it was forced upon them by any government regulation. As a rule, the discount from the regular fare represented by the cost of the mileage book was $3 1-3 per cent. That is, 1,000 mile books were sold for $20 when the regular fare was 3 cents per mile and a one-way ticket for 1,000 miles would have cost $80.

This concession to what might be termed wholesale patrons of the railroads—those who bought their transportation in large quantities—was wiped out under government operation of the railroads during the World war. The order of the railroad administration was issued in 1918, and the traveling men say they accepted it without a murmur as a wartime necessity.

STARTED FIGHT

However, when in 1920 the interstate commerce commission increased passenger rates 20 per cent, or from 3 cents a mile to 3.6 cents, and that increase was made applicable to mileage books, the men who are said to spend on an average nine months out of every year on the road started an agitation to be reinstated in the advantage they once enjoyed.

They appealed first to the railroad managements, but without avail, and then were told that the interstate commerce commission could do nothing for them. Then they turned to congress, and in 1922 the national legislative body passed an amendment to the transportation act of 1920 which directed the commission to take up the mileage ticket question.

On March 6, 1923, commission issued an order, effective May 1 following, prescribing rules and regulations for the issuance by the railroads of the desired mileage tickets. However, the carriers would not take that as final and appealed to the courts, securing

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE

My Dear Ruth: I have very little time or inclination for writing, letters, but I feel that you should know what is happening here.

This morning, mother called me into her room and told me the doctor had informed her last evening that dad was dying. Although I had suspected that this was the case for some days, I would not allow myself to affirm it, and the announcement came with the heart-breaking shock that I imagine the knowledge that death is creeping steadily up to rob us of one we love, always brings to everyone.

Poor, poor mother! For the first time in all my life I saw her this morning perfectly bewildered, utterly at a loss. She did not seem to be able to think. Like a rudderless boat at sea, she seemed tossed about here and there with no hope of rescue. One moment she would speak of something perfectly irrelevant, and the next she seemed to realize the stark truth, in all its terrifying reality.

"Leslie," she said, "I cannot seem to think of myself without your father. You and Alice, my dear, have been much to me and I do not think either of you have missed anything that a mother should give you. But Leslie, some women are more wives than mothers, and I have been one of those whose whole thought, whole love, whole life must go out when the man that was her husband goes."

"But mother, I said, don't you know that Alice and I will still be here with you? Isn't that a little comfort to you? You cannot be wholly desolate while we are alive."

"Yes," she answered wearily, "but you have your own lives to live. Mine is over. I know I shall be left stranded and alone, a battered, beaten wreck upon life's shores."

"Leslie, what will become of me? What shall I do? How can I bear it?"

"Why should life seize upon a woman, and after whirling her into the great current of passion and love and marriage—after letting her find in her arms close—close—the one being who has always had the magic power to unlock her heart—suddenly snatch her man from her and throw her bodily into the awful morass of loneliness and despair? What will in any way make up for those years of companionship cemented with the joys and sorrows of years?"

"Leslie, Leslie, I can't let him go and leave me! Pray God to take me with him. Only my body will be left behind, anyway. All my thoughts, all my spirit, all my joy of living he will take with him."

Ruth, I was absolutely overcome by my mother's grief. There was nothing I could say to comfort her. There was no comfort to be given to such devastating, desperate desolation. I could only put my arms about her and let her feel my physical nearness and sympathy. My eyes were wet with tears that, were running down my cheeks and dropping unchecked. My sobs would not be silenced; but mother stood there her hands limply at her sides, tearless. Her face as if carved marble, in her eyes all the terror of what she was seeing in the days to come when she would be alone.

She frightened me I do not know what would have happened if John had not come to the door and said dad wanted to see us.

"Is it the last, John?" asked my mother.

"I think so," answered my husband sorrowfully.

He held his hand to his lips as if to keep everyone in the presence of death. I felt my own hand pressing against my mouth as though I, too, were trying to stop the breath of life that was coming cold with terror.

COMMON HOUSEHOLD MEDICINES

Otherwise known as "simples" have for centuries been derived from medicinal roots and herbs. They are still used and recognized by many of our best physicians as unequalled for certain ailments. In many countries roots and herbs are cultivated purely for commercial purposes. It is said that the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., is the greatest user of crude herbs in this country. The success of their Vegetable Compound for ailments of women is now world-wide, and it will certainly pay any woman who suffers from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try it.

FORM SCHOOL CLUBS

County Superintendent of Schools O. K. Evenson has been active in organization of rural clubs among the boys and girls of the county. At district No. 3 town of Holveta, near the village of Iola, the young people have formed a club which they call "The Little Farmers Calf Club." and the girls organized a "Merry Maidens Sewing club. This district also has a poultry club.

The reports coming from many sections of the county indicate that teachers and pupils in many districts will organize one or two clubs before the close of the school year. Teachers should write the club leader at the superintendent's office for full particulars.

Monday afternoon the fire department answered an alarm on West Fulton-st at the large building known as the old Scoville hotel, now called Willis Place. Very little damage was done, and the blaze was out by the time fire apparatus arrived.

A mothers' and daughters' banquet held at the Methodist church parlors at 6:30 Monday evening proved to be a success. About 130 were in attendance, filling the rooms to capacity. A program was arranged including toasts, readings and music.

Mrs. E. A. Hannon acted as chairman of the committee in charge which included: Mrs. L. H. Cornblum, Mrs. Haebig, Mrs. R. Holly, Mrs. Osgood, Mrs. J. T. Tonnason, Mrs. Myron, Harrington, and Mrs. H. Swenson. Much success of the affair was due to the efforts of these ladies. The dinner is to become an annual occasion.

STAGE And SCREEN

"THE SNOB" BOASTS BIG FEATURE CAST

Monta Bell's Metro-Goldwyn picture, "The Snob," coming Thursday and Friday to the Elite Theatre, boasts a large cast headed by five of the best known players in filmland, and supported by almost a dozen noted character players.

John Gilbert will be seen in a new and unusual role, but a most fascinating one for him, as "the snob," the central character of the story. Behind a leading man, it took considerable daring on Mr. Gilbert's part to play this character, which is an unsympathetic one, but he was glad of the opportunity to attempt something new in characterization.

Opposite Mr. Gilbert is the beautiful Norma Shearer, who plays the wife of "the snob." Miss Shearer, who will be remembered for her work in "Broadway After Dark," "Broken Barriers," "Empty Hands," "Pleasure Mad" and other pictures, is said to add to her laurels by some more excellent work in this picture.

Conrad Nagel has another of his usually pleasing roles as an ambitious artist, and Phyllis Haver has a part somewhat resembling that of Mr. Gilbert's in being an unscrupulous, scheming person in love with another's mate. Hedda Hopper has an important role.

immolated the drama John Colton and Clarence Randolph have made from W Somerset Maugham's story "Alma Thompson." If it had the misfortune to be born so long before its time but in these days, when nobody takes the trouble to look up his Knickerbocker, when artless flappers prattle of Freud, and when skill in discussing upon the most intricate problems of sex is almost indispensable as a drawing room accomplishment, such a play is accepted as a matter of course.

The play of "Rain" is a passionate tragedy of the South Seas, one of those trenchant, terrific things Maugham does so brilliantly, and the stage version is powerful and gripping.

From a box office viewpoint "Rain" is beyond doubt the reigning success of the decade. It has filled an engagement of two solid years in New York and is still going, a record that has not been approached by any other strictly dramatic attraction. With the possibility of its being held in New York and Boston for at least another year, Sam H. Harris, the producer, has met the growing demand from the other cities, and is sending a special organization on tour, which is a duplicate in every way of the New York production. It will be the attraction at the Appleton Theatre Friday March 6.

BEAUTIFUL STORY OF FAMILY LOVE PLAYS ON THE HEART-STRINGS

here's a swirl of spring air and a smell of new mown hay, a peeping of chickens and the laughter of children about "Not One to Spare," the new motion picture at the New Bijou to day and Thursday.

It is altogether lovely. Quietly and unexcitedly, somewhat lazily, in that charming way in which a brook is lazy, this picture dramatizes a poem which appeared in the Fourth Readers of a quarter of a century ago, "Not One to Spare," by Mrs. E. L. Beers.

With old age approaching, the wealthy brother offered an estate and an allowance for one of the children—any one—who would be given the benefit of all his wealth.

Finish the story for yourself. It's a sentimental little thing, of course, but it's done in a homely manner with admirable tact. BARTON PACKS A LOT OF THOUGHT INTO SHORT TALES

"Better Days" Is Title of Interesting Collection of Barton Editorials

When you're tired of reading about the terrible condition of humanity, when you want to laugh at all the gloom scatterers who mournfully tell you that everything is all wrong, pick up a volume of Bruce Barton's editorials, pick out several that promise well and in ten minutes the rosy glow that is indicative of good times has become a reality.

Barton has been called a "Pollyanna" and a "rah-rah boy," but his kind is much more needed than those who believe the worst is here, in stead of yet to come.

"Better Days" is the name of Barton's newest collection of editorials. It is published by The Century Company and acknowledges its debt to the editors of "The Red Book," "The Weekly," and "Farm and Fireside" for permission to reprint in short snappy articles that each take from three to five minutes to read are discussed. This Too Will Pass. Ignorance, Madam, Be Rejoiced Too Little. What Happens When an Apple Hits Your Head. Cheep's Pyramid and "Mr. Wool" Worth's Tower and "First Feed Your Cat."

There are many more that are just as interesting as the titles of the above would indicate.

Barton has a keen understanding of human nature. Everyone knows the sort of persons he discusses but probably have never stopped to analyze them so carefully. There are no bitter denunciations. "Better Days" is a book worth having and using often. It contains would add twelve as daily sermons.

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

AN ADEQUATE HISTORY OF THE CIVIL WAR

From time to time I have been on the point of devoting an "Adventure" to James Ford Rhodes' "History of the United States." But always I have suppressed the impulse in time because it seems almost ridiculous to advise people to read a work that contains several large volumes, each of them considerably over 500 pages. Anyone who has time for that and who has an inclination to read history is likely to know about such a work himself and need not be advised. To all others the advice to read seven large volumes of history will appear in the nature of a joke.

And yet it is possible that just a word about Rhodes' monumental work may give some the desire to read it who otherwise would not think of it. I myself read the books many years ago, spreading it over several years, but the memory of that adventure is still fresh in my mind, and I am quite certain that many others who like to read history will have the same experience if they can once set themselves to the task in a very short time it will no longer be a task but a keen pleasure.

REALLY WAR HISTORY

James Ford Rhodes calls his work "A History of the United States," but strictly speaking it is not that. It is a history of the Civil War and as such it is a unified piece of work. It takes a great epoch in American history the most important epoch since this nation was organized and tells the story of that epoch adequately and in detail. Moreover it is a real story, that is, it is not a mere collection of historical facts arranged together in volumes. James Ford Rhodes has the gift of offering a narrative to a marked degree and in a general way his work belongs to the same type of history to which Motley's "Rise of the Dutch Republic" belongs—a moving narrative of a great period that brings out the intrinsic drama of the epoch effectively and entertainingly.

I express no opinion on Rhodes' history as history, although I have never seen its scholarship seriously questioned by anyone, but I merely vouch for its reliability, for its claim to attention as a work of art.

For it is that in a true sense. It makes no pretensions to unusual literary quality but merely presumes to tell a straight-away story of the Civil War from its beginnings in the generation that lived before 1830 to the end of Hayes' administration in 1877 when the last step in reunion had been taken. But in the large sweep of the story there is a sense of drama that gives artistic unity to the narrative and that for me at least marks it as a true work of art. It follows almost the formal laws of the technique of a great drama, with its rise, development, denouement. It is a great national tragedy with its culmination in the death of Lincoln, just as the "Rise of the Dutch Republic" was a great tragedy in the form of historical narrative with its culmination in the death of William the Silent.

UNLIKE WILSON'S VOLUMES

The essential artistic quality of the work can perhaps also be brought out by comparing it with other histories. Take Woodrow Wilson's "History of the United States." Perhaps no one would think of calling that a work of art. It is good enough history and worth reading for anyone who has plenty of time, but it is merely a series of books describing events that happened in American history. James Ford Rhodes' work is a great national drama in history form.

The period it describes is of course a great national drama in itself, but to marshal the facts of the period in such a way and so to group them that their drama in quality is given its full value called for ability of high order. That the period however belonged by itself is shown by the fact that James Ford Rhodes has tried to continue the story after the curtain had been rung down on the drama but for me at least those continuations seem irrelevant, almost trivial, in comparison with the history proper. That is another story for somebody else to write. It is very likely a drama that has not yet reached its culmination. But Rhodes' "History of the United States" treats its epoch adequately.

Two Women Win O. Henry Story Prizes

BY THE NEA BOOK SURVEY

Romance again rides in the wake of a literary prize award. This time the scene is Nevada. There, in a small town library, Miss Frances Newman was librarian. She had books to read and time to read them, and a good mind to study their values. Particularly she studied the short story.

Then she began to send "pieces to the papers." That is, she became a self-appointed critic. Her criticisms were printed. One of them concerned James Branch Cabell, now classed among the leading American literary figures. Cabell received it among his clippings. At once he recognized unusual ability and hurried a letter off to Miss Newman.

He wanted to know about her, what she was writing, and then called the attention of Huesch, the publisher, to this gifted young lady of the west.

Thus was this literary Cinderella discovered.

And now she is announced as winner of the O. Henry Memorial prize for the best "short short story" of the year. It is "Rachel and Her Children," and it appeared in "The American Mercury." To complete the romance, it was her first short story.

Meanwhile, however, Miss Newman has become known to the literary world through "The Short Story's Mutations" (Huesch), one of the finest critical works on the short story.

The prize for the "best long short story," which is the first prize of $500, goes to Inez Haynes Irwin, whose name already is well known to the reading public. Her story "The Spring Flight," published in McCall's Magazine, is written with real lyric quality and the choice of the judges seems to be singularly happy. There may be some dispute over the theme, for it is a tale of Will Shakespeare and how he came to write "The Tempest." Some may argue that the stories should be limited to American subjects, but few will have the temerity to question its beauty.

The selection in the "Prize Stories of 1924" (Doubleday, Page) is far and away the finest to be found in any of the many prize story books.

It gives proof that the American short story today need not apologize to its British brother, and proof, as well, that fine writing, theme and style can find its way into the American prints in spite of the heaps of stereotyped trash.

It is particularly interesting to note that the two leaders of the field are women.

Speaking of women writers, it now seems that this year's most discussed and best selling novels will be written by women. There may be more men engaged in writing in America but the women are providing the quality of the past two seasons. Thus it was Edna Ferber with "So Big" and Willa Cather with "The Lost Lady" who held the stage last year. Thus far this season it is Sarah Millin with "God's Stepchildren."

ROTARY CELEBRATES TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

PICTURE SERVICE CLUB AS AGENCY FOR WORLD PEACE

International Brotherhood and Fellowship Fostered by World-wide Organization

The great value of world-wide fellowship and unselfish service to the community and all mankind, was the thought stressed by J. L. Johns and Gustave Keller, Sr., who spoke to Appleton Rotarians and their wives at the celebration in honor of the twentieth anniversary of Rotary and the fifteenth anniversary of International Rotary Tuesday evening at Hotel Northern. The talks were preceded by a banquet at 6:15 and were followed by a social hour of cards and dancing. Behnken's orchestra furnished music during the banquet and for the social hour. George R. Wettengel, chairman of the educational committee, acted as toastmaster and read the objects of Rotary. A novel method of taking the roll of International Rotary clubs, which was in charge of Mrs. George Wettengel, showed that Rotary was established in 28 countries with 103,000 members and 1,851 clubs, of which the United States has 1,530. Each lady was presented with the flag of some nation where Rotary was established and as the roll was called she gave the date and city of the first club and the number of clubs in that nation at the end of December, 1924, at the same time placing her flag in a large standard for all nations. Charles Henderson, Jr., vice president of the local club, read the message of Everett W. Hill, international president, commemorating the twentieth anniversary. F. S. Bradford, Sr., first president of Appleton Rotary club, who was listed as the principal speaker, was unable to be present due to a slight illness. Carl McKee led the club in a number of songs. Dr. Lyle Spencer, former dean of Journalism at Lawrence college, who was injured in the train wreck at Chippewa Falls recently, was a guest of the club.

THE PERFECT MAN

Perfect man in a perfect environment is the final aim of all mankind, according to J. L. Johns, president of the Elks club and the first speaker of the evening. Mr. Johns, who represented the other local luncheon clubs, talked on What World-Wide Fellowship Means to a Community. He said that man has always developed up to a certain high point and then he goes back to the other extreme. The club is an ideal idea, but universal fellows is the one method of doing away with evil, the first of which should be war. The world would be much better if other countries knew our problems and we theirs. The nations must "rub elbows" and club together. This country tried this for a time and some of our greatest problems were solved in that period. Mr. Johns declared.

The United States is an idealistic nation, a firm believer in ideals. It takes her a long time and a lot of talk to realize her serious dangers, but when she starts, everything is gone into whole heartedly. World-wide fellowship and real service will bring about international economic justice, a boon to mankind. Several of our greatest men have signed up their lives for it, Mr. Johns said.

Mr. Johns used Will H. Hays, former postmaster general and now czar of several film corporations as an example. Mr. Hays has settled 6,000 cases out of court by arbitration and saved motion picture corporations a million and a half dollars, Mr. Johns said. Only two cases handled by him ever went into the courts.

UNIVERSAL SERVICE

People should be educated to the idea of universal service, one of the laws of nations, Mr. Johns said. Several people are willing to serve to every one who is not. The idea of living for ones self alone is going out of existence and this is especially true of the last ten years. Germany tried to live without the help of other nations and it caused her downfall. A new idea of universal service and kindness to humanity was born from the war. To be perfect man must have ideal surroundings, universal fellowship and service and religion. The ten commandments started this ideal and only through them can it be kept up. An understanding of one's fellowman will help the community and nation and will stop hate and selfishness, Mr. Johns concluded.

World-wide fellowship, good will among men and peace among nations were the points emphasized by Gustave Keller, Sr., who spoke on The Idea of World Fellowship to those outside of Service Organizations, as a non-club "service" man. Mr. Keller quoted the lines, "he serves God most who serves men best" and gave a brief summary of the Rotary code, saying that it taught the Golden Rule, the only rule and the only standard by which man can be judged correctly. The foundation of the future lies on the service of today, Mr. Keller said. America has always rendered great service to mankind and stands without peer for altruistic and serviceable endeavors and clubs such as the Rotary are the greatest help to America in this field of international service.

PRaise for ROTARY

The world is universally related today as never before for distance is annihilated and all nations must work together. The Rotary club is a big help in this because it can change public opinion at home. The brotherhood of man is not for America alone and Rotary carries the message of humanity to all parts of the world and with it peace and good will. The time is right, the spirit of democracy is abroad and the horrors and futility of war are recognized by the present generation. Nations all want peace, good will, cooperation and fair dealing and the International Rotary with its fellowship service to peoples of several nations, is a great help. Service must reign over greed, selfishness and power if the world comes into its own, Mr. Keller said. Rotary transplants the seeds of service in practical form. If the world-wide opinion as initiated by Rotary and other club frowned on war we would have no more of these terrible struggles. In this great movement to out wars, Rotary International, with over 100,000 members in 28 nations and probably many more in the remaining nations in the near future can lead the van with Glory to God on the highest, and on earth, peace to men of good will as the watchword, what greater glory and service to mankind can such an organization render? Mr. Keller asked in closing.

CHIMNEY BURNS; THINK WHOLE HOUSE IS ABLAZE

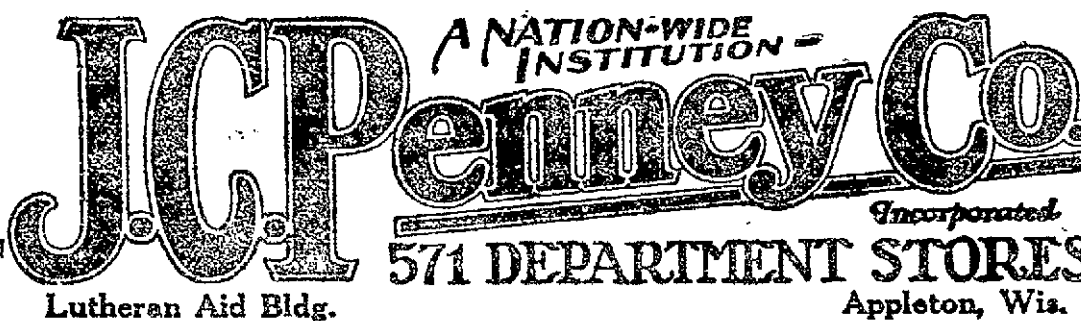

All but one truck of the Appleton fire department Wednesday morning responded to an alarm informing the department that a house was on fire at 635 W. Atlantic-st, but when the firemen arrived they found that the cause of the excitement was only a chimney fire. It was the home of William Wickert. No one was at home at the time the chimney started burning out, but the owner hurried home from his place of employment after he heard the news of the fire run to his house. To the neighbors it appeared as if the roof of the residence was on fire; hence, they summoned the fire department.

Clarence Kasten left Tuesday for Marinette where he has accepted a position with the Bartman Shoe Co.

GERMAN MAT STAR WILL WRESTLE HERE ON MAR. 5

Hans Steinke Agrees To Pin Two Huskies Or Give Big Forfeit

Teuton Giant Has Thrown Most of American Notables Since Arrival Here a Year Ago

Hans Steinke, one of the greatest mat stars Germany has ever produced, and who is rapidly forging his way to the top in American circles, will make his first appearance here on Mar. 5. Steinke is reputed to be one of the world's leaders. While he met several defeats after first arriving in America, he later vindicated himself by pinning his former conquerors. Both Stanislaus and Waldek Zbyszko are numbered among his victims as well as most of the other mat celebrities of this country.

At first it was thought probable Stanislaus Zbyszko would headline the next card here, but when Elmer Johnston, Appleton promoter, saw a chance to get Steinke, he took him in preference to the veteran Pole. Steinke will take on two men here, the first to be George Hills, Appleton grappler.

WILL MEET TWO MEN

The German ace has agreed to meet any two men Johnston may choose, barring none, and defeat them in 75 minutes each. T. Pulaski, his manager, has posted $500 with Ed Smith, sport scribe of the Chicago American, and offers to post a like amount with the Post-Crescent to be donated to charity unless he fulfills his promise.

Johnston is looking about for a good man to complete the match, which will be the first of its kind in Appleton history.

Sport writers throughout the country agree as to Steinke's ability, and the German sport world is watching his progress here with eager eyes. He has been in America for less than a year, and in that time has defeated every man he met, although he has divided honors with some of the big fellows.

ORANGE INVASION OF SAWDUST CITY SET BACK ONE DAY

College and Normal Games in Both Cities Cause Postponements

By mutual consent Oshkosh and Appleton high schools have postponed their Valley conference game from Friday night to Saturday. This will give the Appleton cagers a chance to see Lawrence in action against Carroll college of Waukegan here, while the Sawdust city school will be able to watch the Oshkosh Normal quintet oppose an invasion of their city.

Despite the loss of Fraser and Courtney from the lineup for the rest of the season, the quintet expects to keep its place in the standings of the conference. Coach Lyle Kevin has worked Cookson and Knapp, two speedy youngsters who looked good in the Manitowish contest here last week, into the machine and is looking forward to a close game at Oshkosh.

Scores of Orange rosters will accompany their favorites on the invasion Saturday. Plans are in progress to charter several busses to carry the fans, and if the Appleton cagers lose it will not be from lack of support.

JAKE SCHAEFER DEFEATS HOREMANS IN CUE TILT

Chicago—Jake Schaefer, who once defeated the veteran Willie Hoppie for the 18.2 balk line billiards title which Hoppie is defending in the international tournament here, defeated Edward Horemans, Belgian champion, 400 to 161, in the third match of the cue meet Tuesday night.

Young Jake playing with supreme confidence and nonchalant brusqueness, made a new high mark for the meet with a run of 130 in the seventh inning and finished in the tenth frame with an average of 40. Horemans' best was 67 in the second inning and an average of 17.8. The former tilt led all the way.

Brief Sketches Of Big Stars

ROBERT "BOB" MUESEL
New York Yankee's Outfielder
Born—San Jose, Calif., July 19, 1898.

Major League Career—Purchased from Vernon club of Pacific Coast League in 1920 for cash and players. Played third base for time.

Outstanding Feats—Won sixth game and clinched the 1923 world series for the Yankees by driving a single through the box in the eighth inning, sending home the runs that averted disaster for the Giants. Hit was especially timely and was a lifesaver, in a way, for Babe Ruth had just struck out with the same opportunity offering itself. Batted .300 in 1922 classic. Made four assists in seven game of double header, played Sept. 5, 1921.

Los Angeles—Mickey Walker knocked out Bert Collins in seven rounds.

WISCONSIN TRACK TEAM MAY JOURNEY TO PACIFIC COAST

California Sets Date for Apr. 4, but Badgers Seek Other Arrangement

Madison—If the University of California can arrange its track schedule to give Wisconsin a match on Apr. 11, the proposed western trip for the track team will be realized, in the opinion of T. B. Jones, rethling athletic director and track coach, here.

"Both schools are anxious to hold the meet," Coach Jones said, "but the western school may experience some difficulty in giving us the date we want because of other meets on its schedule. Because of the classwork that would be missed, we can make the trip only during the spring vacation."

California submitted to Wisconsin the date Apr. 4, but that would have meant the loss of a week's school to Badger men, and it therefore was not accepted, the coach explained. The only Saturday possible to Wisconsin is April 11, he said.

The itinerary planned in the event the meet is held, would take the team through southern United States on the trip out and via the more northern route on the way back.

"We want to work out as much as possible on the way to the west," Mr. Jones said, "and the southern route will give the men the opportunity to get used to an outdoor track. If possible, a meet will be arranged with either the University of Kansas at Lawrence or the University of Arizona at Tucson. The team will stop off at Los Angeles and work out on the University of Southern California track, and then on up to Berkeley for the meet with the University of California."

"On the way back, we hope to be able to engage in a meet with either the University of Utah at Salt Lake City or the University of Denver at Denver, and then arrive at Kansas City in time for the relays there."

"Officials on the whole are quite favorable to sending a Wisconsin team on a western trip. No Wisconsin team has ever invaded the west, and it is felt that a trip of this kind would not only be of interest to our many alumni in western states, but that it would also do much toward spreading the name of Wisconsin."

ISLAND PAPER FIVE TRAILS BANK QUINT

Fox River Paper Co. Safely Perched on Top Rung of Industrial Ladder

WEDNESDAY'S SCHEDULE

Island Paper Co. vs. Coated Paper Co.

Citizens National Bank vs. Shoe Fitters

Fox River Paper Co. vs. Valley Sport Shop.

Fox River Paper Co. has an unshakable hold on first place in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial league here, but Citizens National Bank is not yet secure in second and may be displaced by the Island Paper Co. of Oshkosh Wednesday night. The Fox River five is scheduled to clash with the Valley Sports, and is hoped to win easily. The Bankers will meet the Shoemakers, and the Island Paper Co. faces the Coated Paper Co.

The first game is scheduled to start at 7:15 Wednesday evening. All of the contests will be staged in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium here.

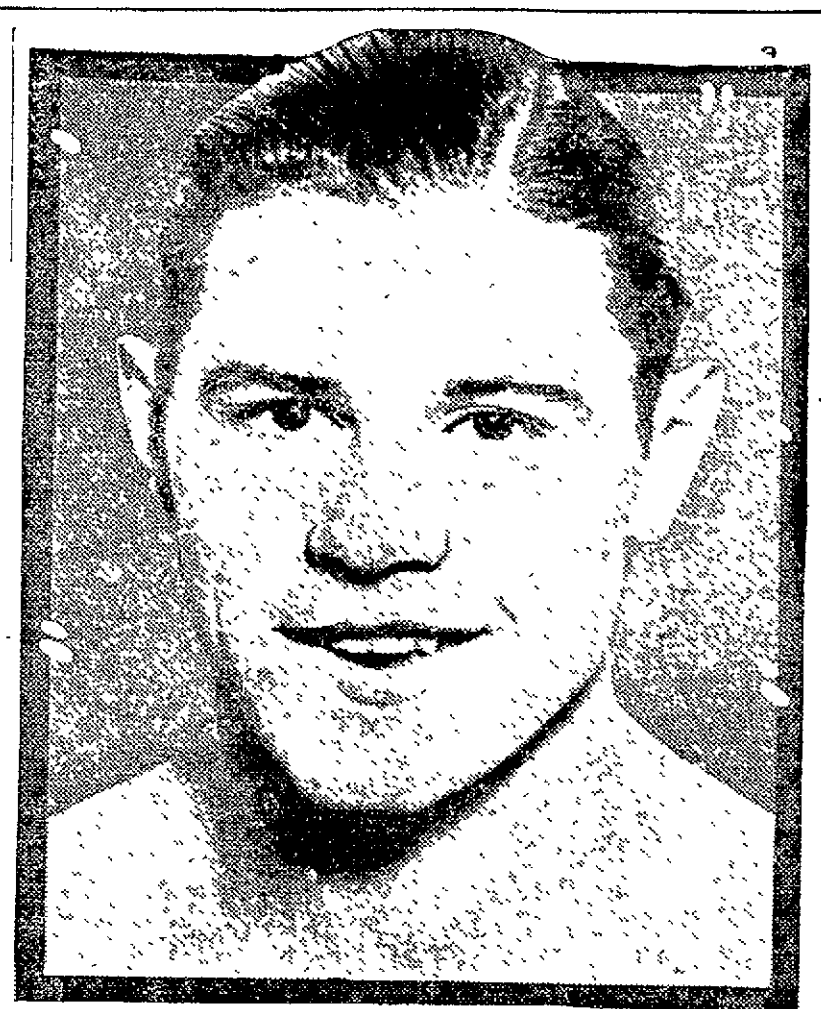

CLINTONVILLE CAGERS DEFEAT LENA VETERANS

Clintonville—Clintonville Guards added another victory to their already long list when they took the American Legion team from Lena into camp Monday night by a score of 25 to 17. Lena brought down a heavily reinforced team but was unable successfully to penetrate Clintonville's defense. A large proportion of their points being made on free shots. A Terek and A. Netzer scored for the visitors, while Swank and Benzler were the heaviest scorers for the home team. Clintonville has won 19 out of 22 games played this year.

MICHIGAN BANKS ON REINKE, TRACK STAR

Michigan track coaches expect great things of Charlie Reinke this season. Reinke, a half miler, was a star in his sophomore year but didn't go so well last spring. As a senior, however, they believe he'll return to his 1923 form and chalk up a high quota of points in his favorite event.

Slattery Climbs Notch Buffalo Boy Gets into Calcium Glare by Sensational Defeat of Jack Delaney

JIMMY SLATTERY

This youthful Buffalo boy startled the athletic multitude by handing a beating to the highly touted Jack Delaney, conqueror of Paul Berlenbach and Tiger Flowers, in New York the other night. Delaney had been picked to win but Slattery upset the dope by decisively outpointing his opponent in the major portion of the bout. The victory obviously stamps Slattery as a dangerous contender in the 160-pound class and upwards.

Maryland Boasts Many Big League Notables

Eastern State Challenges All Her Sisters to Equal Major League Output

Baltimore—Headed by Babe Ruth, "Lefty" Groves, Jack Bentley, Ed. Rummel, and Johnny Neun, Maryland challenges the 47 remaining states in the union to match its major league team.

"On the way back, we hope to be able to engage in a meet with either the University of Utah at Salt Lake City or the University of Denver at Denver, and then arrive at Kansas City in time for the relays there."

"Officials on the whole are quite favorable to sending a Wisconsin team on a western trip. No Wisconsin team has ever invaded the west, and it is felt that a trip of this kind would not only be of interest to our many alumni in western states, but that it would also do much toward spreading the name of Wisconsin."

Fifteen men from Maryland have trod the sands of the big time and will head south with the majors. Ruth heads the list of them all. Educated in Maryland and playing with the Orioles, he is without a doubt a full-fledged Marylander and an able leader for the clan. "Lefty" Groves probably comes next, due likely to the price that Connie Mack is reported to have paid to get this youngster on his hurling staff. It is reported that Mack paid $100,000 for this southpaw.

Jack Bentley, one of John McGraw's main supports on the mound for the New York Giants, is also from Maryland, having also from the ranks of Jack Dunn's Orioles.

Ed Rummel, ranked as one of the best hurlers in the American league, makes a good partner to Groves. Ed is a vita Mack and has been of invaluable aid to this erstwhile leader of the Athletics. Ed, at present is one of the best bowlers that Baltimore can claim as its own.

Johnny Neun, until a short time ago the property of St. Paul in the American Association, who has been sold to the Detroit Tigers, is also a Baltimore boy.

Jimmy Fox, George Klemmick and Bill Lamar, an outfielder, all the property of the Athletics, are Marylanders.

Others include Howard Baldwin, bought from Newark by the Giants for a reported price of $13,000; Allen Russell of the Senators; Victor Keen, Calbs, Joe Lantz and Johnny Scholberg of Queensvorn, two youngsters; Robert T. Knobe, a first baseman with the Cleveland Indians; Fawcett of the Indians, Flowers, St. Louis Cardinals, Lewis Malone, Yankees, John Cortazzo, White Sox, and Ray Gardner of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

As a manager the team could not do better than Frank Baker, ex-big leaguer, who is now managing Eastern in the Shore League. And for an umpire, Doll Derr, once in the National League and for many years in the International, would go good.

Notre Dame played and beat Princeton 25 to 2, that season.

When did old Wolgast win the lightweight title from Battling Nelson—W. A. C. Feb. 22, 1910.

What's Padlock's best record for the 220-yard dash—T. B. Padlock is credited with running the event in 29.4 seconds.

How old is Jack Britton, former welterweight champion—R. E. S. Britton is 39 years old, according to the records.

Did Robby Jones of the Detroit Tigers ever bat over 300 in the majors and if so when—W. O. W. Jones hit .303 in 1921.

KOLB BEATS RUSSELL IN HANDICAP CUE TILT

"Doc" Kolb Tuesday night defeated W. Russell 155 to 171, in a handicap match the closest and most exciting of the Recreation hall billiard tournament. Kolb's high run was 12, Russell's 11.

Thursday night E. Verbrick will meet his brother N. Verbrick, on even terms in a 155-point match.

New York—The state athletic commission held Eddie (Kid) Wagner, Philadelphia, defeated by Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo, was a victim of an unjustified decision and restored him to the high-weight elimination tournament.

Boston—The Boston Transcript said agreement has been reached limiting the salaries of head coaches of football at Harvard, Yale and Princeton to $8,000 a year.

Lawrence Revives Grappling Game In Match With Ripon

Blackbourne's Blue Mat Squad Will Meet Gauthier's Wrestlers on Mar. 10

After a search of many months Lawrence has found a wrestling opponent in Ripon and a match has been scheduled for Mar. 10, according to coach Lysie (Liz) Blackbourne. The Appleton college added the mat game to its list of intramural sports last year, but was unable to get into intercollegiate competition because none of the other schools in its class had wrestling teams, and the Big Ten colleges had their schedules filled.

Despite this lack of outside competition, Blackbourne, minor sports coach at Lawrence, organized his mat candidates into classes which meet three times each week. Tournaments held recently showed good results and when two of the colleges appeared in the preliminary of a wrestling card in January, G. the drew a lot of applause from fans who have been accustomed to watching some of the best pros in the game who appeared in this section of the country.

RIPON HAS STARS

The Ripon team is said to have several stars in the heavyweight and lightweight classes, chief among them being Felandt and Nelson in the former, and Rosenbaum and Wheeler in the latter. Coach Gauthier of Ripon has been working his men hard to overcome the start of almost a year Lawrence has in training, and the Lawrentians may have to extend themselves to hold their own.

Blackbourne has not yet chosen the team he will send in against the Riponites. Probably the results of matches between now and the meet on Mar. 10 will determine his choice.

FOND DU LAC DROPS FIVE STRAIGHT TO APPLETON SEXTET

Visitors Take Bad Beating at Hands of Volleyball Team Here

Appleton businessmen Tuesday night took five straight games from a Fond du Lac volleyball team on the Y. M. C. A. courts here. The match was scheduled to furnish practice in preparation for the state tournament here on April 25, and before the contests Fond du Lac was considered a strong favorite, having beaten Madison on its home court four out of five games last Wednesday.

Appleton won, 15 to 8, 15 to 6, 15 to 7, 15 to 10 and 15 to 11. Fond du Lac was way off its usual form, and the Appleton men also were playing mediocre volleyball.

F. C. Reuter starred for the Appleton team.

A return match at Fond du Lac is in prospect.

The lineup: Fond du Lac—J. H. Becker, R. B. Woodworth, F. D. Candlish, C. B. Bestwick, R. Whitman, D. Baker.

Appleton—F. C. Reuter, Al Bradford, A. C. Reimley, R. Getschow, J. Murray, J. Nallor, Fred Schiltz for Getschow.

DRUNKEN DRIVER BACKS CAR THRU DISPLAY WINDOW

Green Bay Man Is Fined $50
After Smashing into Store
Front Here

The unsteady hand of an intoxicated driver caused an automobile to back up over the street curb and into the store front of the Reeson & Jimos shoe shining parlor about mid night Tuesday.

The automobile was driven by J. P. McCormick, 208 Cassin, Green Bay, who paid a fine of $50 and costs in municipal court Wednesday morning for driving while under the influence of liquor.

McCormick had his car parked in front of the S. S. Kresge company store on College-ave. In backing away from the curb, he was unable to stop until he had backed clear across the street into the show window. Two windows were broken in the crash. Immediately after the accident, McCormick started out toward the east on College-ave and did not wait even for the automatic traffic signal. He was arrested by Patrolman Elias Carnea.

In the absence of Judge A. M. Spencer, who has not yet recovered fully from a two weeks' illness, Judge Fred V. Heinemann gave the choice of the choice of paying a $50 fine or spending 30 days in jail. He didn't have the money on his person but went out immediately to get some. He will also be required to settle for the broken window. The car which was damaged slightly, was not his own but belonged to Cleveland and Cliff Coal company by whom he is employed.

FOREMAN CLASS WILL HOLD DINNER

The foremanship class conducted at Appleton vocational school under auspices of the extension division of the University of Wisconsin will hold its annual banquet at 8:30 Thursday evening at Conway hotel. All of the members are expected to be present.

Two Oshkosh men are to be among the speakers. They are Jay Davis, superintendent, and Henry Polley, employment superintendent, of the Paine Lumber Co. plant. Mr. Polley formerly was a resident of Appleton where he was principal of the First ward school.

Others scheduled to give talks are Herb Helling, director, and F. P. Martin, coordinator, of Appleton vocational school, F. G. Wheeler of Kimberly-Clark company and E. M. Gorow and C. C. Allen of the university extension division.

Five more meetings will be held by the class before the close of the season.

TOWN TREASURERS URGED TO PAY UP

Town, village and city treasurers have been asked to turn in their state taxes this year. Only seven of the thirty one local treasurers of the county have thus far settled with Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, for the amount of state taxes on their localities. Last year the percentage was considerably larger. Only three days remain in which to turn over the state tax, as the law requires all treasurers to settle before the first Monday in March. This must be done regardless of whether the payment of the state tax causes a deficiency in the city, village or town taxes.

ELECT KAUKAUNA SCOUT COMMITTEE THURSDAY

Kaukauna district committee of Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, will organize for 1925 at a meeting at 7:30 Thursday evening at the council rooms in the municipal building at Kaukauna. Representatives of civic and church organizations have been asked to attend. Officers will be elected and plans are to be made to form more boy scout troops this year.

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES CHANGES IN CLUBHOUSE

The building committee of the Butte des Morts Golf club will have a dinner meeting at 6:30 Wednesday night in Hotel Northern. There will be discussion on whether to erect a new building or to make alterations on the present clubhouse.

NEW BIBLE STUDY CLUB ATTRACTS YOUNG MEN

A large group of young men of Appleton attended the first regular meeting of the B. Y. C. A. Moffatt evening at the Y. M. C. A. Moffatt. New Testament is being used by the group for its Bible study and twelve lessons from the book of Mark have been outlined in advance. The topic for Tuesday night was The Healing of Body and Soul and George Werner, club leader, led a discussion on How To Work for Health of Body and Soul.

The meetings, which are preceded by a banquet at 6:15 and close at 7:30, are held every Tuesday evening. All young men of Appleton are invited to attend. The topic for next Tuesday is New Standards for Old and an interesting discussion on How Can New Moral Standards Win Out, will be led by Mr. Werner.
